

Why do the heathen rage?

B. H. Kennedy

Den vedervärdighet

Svenska koralboken, 1697

$\text{♩} = 80$

B♭ Clarinet

Piano

Why do the hea - then rage? What are the na - tions dream - ing in
He who is throned in heav'n de - rides their pre - pa - ra - tion; the Now will I cry a - loud and tell the Lord's great to - ken: Thou Be - neath Thine i - ron rod Thy foe - men shall be shat - tered, as Bow down and kiss the Son, lest, if His wrath a - wa - ken, Ye vain a - gainst the Lord and His a - nointed schem - ing, kings of the earth a - rise, and Lord up - on them pours His scorn - ful in - dig - na - tion: soon shall His voice of wrath their art My Son, He saith, to me the word was spo - ken: Yea, Thee have I this day be - by the pot - ter's hand the bro - ken shreds lie scat - tered. Be wise, then, O ye kings, Ye fail and fade a - way, for e - ver - more for - sa - ken; soon may His an - ger burn, a lea - gued ru - lers say: come, let us break their bands and cast their cords a - way.

6

12

souls with ter - ror thrill: Yet I have set my King on Zi - on's ho - ly hill.
got - ten: ask of Me, and Thine the hea - then, Thine earth's ut - most parts shall be.
earth - ly jud - ges, hear; serve ye the Lord with awe, re - joice with trem - bling fear.
light - ly kin - dled flame; then ble - sed are all they that trust His ho - ly name.