I sought the Lord at ear - ly morn, when earth a - woke to see the light;
I sought the Lord when noon - tide shone, and head and hand earth's du - ties shared;
I sought the Lord when eve - ning fell, and night came glid - ing on a - pace;
At morn, at noon, at night, I'll pray, and Thou, O Lord, my prayer wilt hear;
O Je - sus Christ, to Thee be praise! 'Tis Thou hast taught my soul to pray,

And to my soul a light was borne that quelled the dark-ness of my night;
"I am Thy ser - vant, Lord, a - lone," I said, and told Him how I fared;
For I had sins my Lord to tell, and He is full of pard' - ning grace;
For Thou art near my path al - way, to aid, to com - fort, or to cheer;
For Thou didst speak with God al - ways, at morn, at noon, at close of day;

He heard my prayer at ear - ly morn, and light in - to my heart was borne.
He heard my prayer as I drew near, and kept me at my task, sin - cere.
He heard my prayer, and bade me rest, and in His love my soul was blest.
No hour too ear - ly, none too late, to knock im - plor - ing at Thy gate.
And Thou hast said He hears the prayer the long - ing soul breathes ev' - ry - where.
